2020-21 Instructions on How to Apply for a Private Student Loan

All Private Student loan requests will be processed for the full year and split evenly between fall and spring semesters.

Private student loans are managed through private lenders, issued in the student's name, and may require a creditworthy co-signer. Eligibility, rates, terms, and conditions vary. Approval and interest rates are based on the borrower's (and if needed the co-signer's) credit rating(s). Alternative loans are agreements between the borrower, co-signer, and the lender.

Temple University recommends students exhaust federal student aid options prior to pursuing private student loans.

Loan debt can accumulate quickly and result in a lifetime burden of high payments and will make it difficult to be approved for a car loan or mortgage. Do your research!

Review helpful tips and comparisons via information provided on the SFS website, <https://sfs.temple.edu/financial-aid-types/educational-loans/private-alternative-loans>.

1. Once a student has determined the best type of private student loan (and compared the loan terms and repayment options with the Federal PLUS Loan) apply online through the lender's website.

We recommend that borrowers apply no earlier than June for the upcoming academic year (fall/spring semesters). All loans will be certified with equal disbursements split between the fall and spring semesters. Increases require a separate application after the loan has been processed. Be sure to calculate and apply for only the amount needed for the year by reviewing your cost of attendance and the tuition calculator tool.

2. 2020-2021 Loan Term Dates for applications – August 24, 2019 – May 5, 2020

2020-2021 Loan Disbursement information – loans are posted to student accounts by the SFS Office and will be set to disburse a couple of days before the start of each term and will continue on a rolling basis.

- a. Fall 2020 – August 19th, 2020 is the first day financial aid will begin disbursing to eligible students
- b. Spring 2021 – January 6th, 2021 is the first day financial aid will begin disbursing to eligible students

Disbursement will only occur for students that meet all lender eligibility requirements (enrollment, no outstanding financial aid requirements, academic standing, etc....).*

Keep good records – we encourage students to maintain easy to read (and find!) records of annual Private Student Loan borrowing amounts and private lender contact information.
